

OVER FOUR THOUSAND VOTED AT ELECTION

ROAD DISTRICT SEVEN SET WHAT PROBABLY IS WORLD'S RECORD

ALL VOTES CAST AT ONE POLLING PLACE

Such a Scene Never Seen Before in County
—Probably Will Never Be Seen Again
—William Hembrough Wins Victory in Battle of Ballots—Good Order Prevailed

Four thousand and forty-two people voted in the road district election yesterday in district No. 7, which includes Jacksonville. The like was never seen before in this county and probably never will be again.

As a result of that election William Hembrough was chosen road commissioner with a vote of 1327 to his credit. His nearest competitor was John McDonald, with a vote of 1009. The other candidates finished in this order: Harry Perry, 738; Henry Strawn, 600; Charles Magill, 248; George Willerton, 70.

For clerk the result was: Roy McLain, 1779; Amos Coker, 1416.

Commissioner McDonald had chosen the Tobin store on East Lafayette avenue as the polling place. For more than 4,000 people to enter this small building, receive ballots from the judges, mark them and deposit them in the ballot box in the course of ten hours' time was really a wonderful accomplishment.

DISMISSAL OF OFFICIALS IS STORM CENTER

Senate Engages in General Debate of Civil Service Law

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 4.—President Harding's dismissal of 29 bureau of engraving executives was the center of another storm of Democratic protest in congress today despite a white house explanation that the president had not intended by his action to "reflect on the character" of any of the discharged officials.

In the senate a congressional inquiry was proposed formally in a resolution by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, who declared the president's unheralded dismissal order had been "inhuman and inexcusable."

Several other Democratic senators joined in the attack while in the house Representative Byrns, Democrat, Tennessee, assailed the president's act as nothing short of an outrage.

Defending the administration Senator New, Republican, Indiana told the senate there were "ample reasons for the dismissal, although fortunately there were times when the president could not take the country into his confidence."

A general debate involving the whole patronage policy of the administration developed over Senator Caraway's resolution but it went over without action.

At the white house Secretary Christian, acting for the president declared in a letter to one of the dismissed officials that a full explanation was not yet opportune, although the chief executive regretted that "insinuating publicity" was being given the incident. There had been no desire, the secretary wrote to reflect on the character of any government employee.

It also was said by white house officials that Mr. Harding said he alone was responsible for the conduct of an efficient administration and that he proposed to exercise the presidential appointive power in a manner that accorded with his own judgment. There was no possibility it was declared that any of the dismissed officials would be restored to office.

Debate Civil Service Law.
The senate debate developed into a general cross-fire of political argument on whether the civil service law was being enforced now and whether it had ever been observed by either Republican or

The officials of the election were:
Judges—C. C. Berryman, A. E. Williamson and Hugh Nune.
Clerks—Arch Vasconcellos and George Wiseman.

The voting of more than 4,000 people means that an average of more than 400 votes was cast each hour during which the polls were open, or nearly seven every minute. The arrangements were as convenient as could be in such congested quarters. The voters were kept in line at the entrance by Mr. Wiseman and Mr. Berryman. Then they were directed to the different booths by Mr. Nune and returning handed their ballots to Mr. Williamson while the name of each was recorded in the poll books by Mr. Vasconcellos.

System Worked Well.
The system worked so well that the stream of voters was kept moving. At times during the day the line extended clear from the store building entrance east 100 yards to Howe street. It was a fact on which many people made comment that the utmost good nature prevailed throughout the entire day. There were scores of spectators about the polling place and many after casting their ballots remained in the neighborhood for an hour or so, interested by the unusual activity.

Hundreds of automobiles were in use throughout the day and while Lafayette avenue was almost impassable because of the fact in the early morning hours by evening time the street was in quite good condition because of the continuous traffic. Many men and women took part in this election who it is safe to say had not voted for years in a city election contest.

Causes of Interest.
There is just at present a very great interest in road improvements and further the publicity given the election in the present instance had much to do with the unusual interest. The fact that there were six candidates all with personal following also had something to do with the unusual activity.

Then the very fact that so large a vote was cast in the morning hours had its effect in the afternoon. Stories kept reaching the business district of the remarkable sight of so many voters in line and the result was that still other citizens decided on the journey to the polling place, to get a glimpse of what was doing and put in ballots themselves.

The officials not only had a tremendous task in caring for so many voters but it was by no means a small job to count the ballots. Their work was completed by 10:30 p. m. Between twenty-five and thirty ballots could not be counted because of error. In making the count of more than 4,000 ballots the judges and clerks at no time had a discrepancy in their records greater than three.

Law Needs Amending.
It was suggested in above that probably such an election would never occur again. This did not

HOPE BILLS WILL BE PASSED WITHOUT RADICAL CHANGES

Chairman Lasker Appears Before Committee Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 4.—Enactment of the administration's ship subsidy bills without radical change is the hope of President Harding and shipping board officials. Chairman Lasker told members of the senate commerce commission and house merchant marine committee at the opening session today of joint hearings on the measures.

Declaring that the shipping board "stands fast," for the general principles embodied in the program endorsed by the president, Mr. Lasker expressed the opinion that "any radical change in the proposals might result in the destruction of the whole."

"In the application of details both by law and regulation," he asserted, "the board feels free to say that these may be points that should be further explored."

After he had read a lengthy statement in which he contended that government operation not only had proved a "costly failure" but was driving private owners off the seas the shipping board head became the target for a rapid fire of questions, most of them from Democratic members of the house committee. Frequent verbal clashes between Mr. Lasker and Representative Hardy, Texas, ranking Democrat of the house committee marked the cross-examination.

Experts to Give Testimony.
Mr. Lasker said experts familiar with the shipping question would appear before the committee to offer testimony.

"I'm not an expert on certain details," he added, "and must plead incompetence to answer certain questions."

Quizzed by Representative Briggs, Democrat, Texas, as to the board's experience with ship operators, Mr. Lasker said he had a "suspicion" that "a few operators have purposely abused their arbitration or privileges," to prove operation a failure.

Mr. Lasker praised the seaman's and complimented the administration of shipping board affairs by Rear-Admiral William S. Benson, retired, while chairman of the board.

Chairman Lasker said he was not in favor of a material change in the seaman's act, which he said was "one of the most misrepresented pieces of legislation on the statute books."

CONGRESS WILL TRY TO SETTLE THE COAL STRIKE

House Labor Committee Got Into Action Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 4.—A congressional effort at settlement of the coal strike, particularly as it involves the bituminous fields was begun today when Chairman Nolan of the house labor committee was authorized to telegraph invitations to a number of representative operators and officers of operators' associations in the central competitive coal fields to attend a meeting with the miners union leaders in Washington April 1, and attempt to reach an agreement. At the same time Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, said in the senate that "drastic public action might be demanded and charged the operators with contract breaking in precipitating the strike."

A possible divergence between the views of members of congress and those of the administration however was seen when Attorney General Daugherty issued a statement reiterating that the government is not undertaking to do anything in the present situation of the coal matter.

The government would not look with favor upon coal price increases he said.

The committee action came after its members had spent two days listening to discussion of the strike from the miners' viewpoint by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

Mr. Lewis assured the committee he would advise his associates to negotiate with any representative group of operators from the central field, which includes Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia, even though not all the operators could be induced to deal again with the union. The union, he insisted would not and could not settle the dispute in other states until this basis had been established for a national wage level.

The committee decided to appeal direct to the representatives of operators' groups in the states named, and Mr. Lewis tonight declared "it had put forward a proposition worth considering."

Defends Union Proposals.
During the hearing today, Mr. Lewis defended the miners' union proposal to establish a six hour day and five day week, one of the demands originally made, scouting as absurd a calculation by Representative Black, Democrat, Texas, that this would occasion an extra annual cost of $244,000,000 to the public for coal.

"However, if we did discuss any of these demands around a council table with operators, Mr. Lewis added, "and practicability and reasonableness cannot be demonstrated for them, the demands will fall."

Mr. Lewis amplified the repeated charge that the bituminous operators of the central field had broken a contract with the miners' union in failing to conform with its committee for a new wage scale before the strike.

The fact, he said really gave the strike all the aspects of a lockout.

Mr. Lewis arranged later to leave for New York to continue the union's negotiations with the anthracite operators. The reasonableness of the future wage was the chief issue here, he said.

In reply to questions from Representative Black, Mr. Lewis said the basis day wage in coal mining under present conditions was $2.50 a day, compared with $2.84 in 1913, but the scale in the latter year, he added, "was a pauper standard."

The house committee contemplates further inquiry into the coal industry, with testimony from both operators and miners and is expected to continue its hearing tomorrow.

SHIP CHEAPER THRU PANAMA CANAL THAN ACROSS CONTINENT

This is Statement made by a Lumber Official Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 4.—Lumber is being produced cheaper now than ever before, Wilson Compton today told delegates attending the meeting of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association of which he is secretary manager.

Reports that the lumber supply was decreasing, he denounced as a falsity designed by profiteers to keep building prices up. He explained, however, one reason for high price of lumber.

"Railway rates are too high," he said "and it costs more to send lumber from the west coast to Chicago than it costs to produce it, including cutting, logging and rolling. We can send it cheaper thru the Panama canal to New York and back haul it to Detroit than we can send it across the continent."

"We save $13.75 a thousand feet by water,"

John W. Blodgett of Cedar Rapids, Michigan, was elected president of the organization.

REICHSTAG PASSES TAXATION MEASURE

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, April 4.—The reichstag today passed the government's new taxation measures including the compulsory loan. The German nationalists, independent socialists and communists voted against the measures.

Chancellor Wirth in the reichstag on January 26 announced the government's taxation proposals. He said these comprised a compulsory loan of one billion gold marks bearing interest only after three years. Intended to cover the budget expenditures for 1922, abandonment of the tax on post-war profits; a two per cent business tax and an increase in the duty on coal to forty per cent. The duty on sugar was to be made fifty marks per 100 kilograms.

JUDGE PAGE TAKES PENNSYLVANIA CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Attorneys for Road Complete Their Fight on Rail- road Board

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 4.—Attorneys for the Pennsylvania railroad completed their fight against the motion of the United States railroad board to dismiss the injunction suit brought by the road and the case was taken under advisement today by Federal Judge George P. Page.

In several instances Judge Page indicated he held the opinion that the power of the labor board was merely to investigate and publish decisions on its investigation. He intimated that with no power of enforcement behind those decisions, it was not made plain by the Pennsylvania how the board's decision in the Pennsylvania case was unconstitutional. The road denied the power of the board to order certain conferences with shop employees including the unions on its lines and contended that the board could not prescribe how elections to name employee representatives in conferences should be held.

Timothy J. Schofield, counsel for the carrier, introduced argument of the powers of the different conventions of order.

RUSSIAN SOVIET DELEGATES START FOR CONFERENCE

Delegation Numbers Fifty and Occupies Three Coaches

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, April 4.—The Russian soviet delegates left for Genoa tonight to attend the economic conference and are due to arrive there early Thursday. The delegation of fifty including several members of the soviet's Berlia mission occupied three special cars of the Munich express.

Chitcherine, Litvinoff, Joffe and the other chiefs hurried aboard the train. They declared there was nothing of the importance they could say except to deny that their conferences with German official and non-official circles had brought about an agreement for mutual action on Genoa based on concrete proposals. Such an understanding they pointed out was obviously precluded, as neither country knew what awaited it at Genoa; hence cooperation was not feasible at this time.

The presence here of the soviet delegation has been seized upon as the psychological moment for revelations concerning alleged Bolshevik subsidies to the German communist party. The revelations are made by the Politisch Parlamentarische Nachrichten agency often used as the mouthpiece of the majority socialist wing of the present German government.

According to a story widely published today the communists received from Russia in 1921 sixty million marks of which about five million marks were for the support of the party organ Rote Fahne (Red Flag) which, however, lately has been reduced to 200,000 marks monthly.

Moreover, it is asserted the Bolshevik organized at enormous expense the so-called west European secretariat, and vast propaganda work by German communist publishing houses in Hamburg and Leipzig. These publishing houses alone in 1921 drew thirty million marks.

The Rote Fahne ridicules the revelations as a childish political maneuver.

PORTO RICAN TROUBLE IS AIRED IN CONGRESS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 4.—Controversies involved in the administration of Porto Rican governmental affairs by Governor E. Mont Rely were today given another airing in congress.

Felix Cordova Davila, resident commissioner of Porto Rico, reiterated in the house his demand for a congressional investigation of the official acts of Governor Rely and declared "Rely is morally and mentally unfit to govern the island."

The other side of the controversy was laid before the senate in a communication signed by Carlos Felton and Salvador Silvestre, socialist members of Juncos, Porto Rico assembly exhorting the governor "as a just and honorable administrator," and assailing his opponents. The communication was addressed to the president of the senate and laid before that body in the regular procedure.

NURSE TESTIFIES FOR MRS. STOKES

NEW YORK, April 4.—Taking the stand unexpectedly in the suit of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes to recover dower rights, Miss Christine Brook, a nurse gave testimony in supreme court today contradicting a previous statement of W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy hotel man, that he was in Lexington, Ky., in January, 1911. She said he was in New York at that time.

Mrs. Stokes alleged that during the period involved she met and dined on numerous occasions with Mr. Stokes at his hotel apartment and the nurse's testimony is considered to have an important bearing in this connection contradicting that of several witnesses who corroborated the hotel man's claim that he had spent the disputed days in Kentucky.

MIDNIGHT PARTY ENDS IN DEATH OF U.S. ARMY OFFICER IN OKLAHOMA

Lieutenant Colonel Paul W. Beck is Killed by Prominent Attorney Whose Guest He Was —Dead Man's Mother Was Cousin of Late W. H. Hinrichsen—Formerly Lived Here

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA City, Okla., April 4.—A midnight party in the fashionable home here of Jean P. Day, prominent attorney and oil man, ended in the death of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Word Beck, assistant commander of Post Field at Fort Sill, Okla. and widely known in army circle.

Beck, one of the pioneer flyers of the American army, was killed by Day, who declares he struck the army officer over the head with a revolver when he returned home and found his guest struggling with Mrs. Day. The gun was discharged, Day asserting the discharge was accidental. Beck's skull was so badly torn that officials were unable to determine whether the bullet or the blow caused death.

Day is under $5,000 bond to appear at a coroner's inquest Saturday.

A committee of officers from Post Field will conduct an inquiry into the affair, Forest Hughes, county attorney announced.

The county attorney said he would not consider filing charges until after the coroner's inquest.

M. F. Meadows, federal prohibition director for Oklahoma also announced he would investigate to determine what part, if any, liquor may have played in the tragedy.

The shooting came after a party at the Day home at which Lieutenant Colonel Beck was the guest of honor. Beck flew here yesterday from Fort Sill. Day had taken the other guests home in his motor car and when he returned to his home about 2:30 A. M., he declared in a statement to newspapermen, noticed thru a window that his wife and Beck were seated on a divan.

"Colonel Beck reached for her," Day declared. "There was a struggle."

Got His Revolver.
Thereupon Day said, he rushed into the house and upstairs where he got his revolver.

"Returning to the dining room," he related, "I commanded: 'You get out of here, the army officer drew back his hand as if to strike,' Day said.

"I hit him over the head," Day said. "The gun went off I never dreamed of its discharging."

Day said Lieutenant Colonel Beck had spent the evening with him and Mrs. Day. They dined at a hotel. Day said he had invited Beck to stay at his home last night.

Earlier in the evening Beck and Mrs. Day attended a theater together, according to other guests at the party.

Day did not accompany them as he had some business to attend to.

Beck had long been a friend of the Day family. He was 45 years old. Day is fifty and his wife several years younger. Mrs. Day corroborated the story told by her husband.

Mrs. Day is a leading society woman of Oklahoma City. She spent last winter in Washington, D. C., and entertained at many social functions.

REPUBLICANS IN SANGAMON GAIN ON COUNTY BOARD

Factions Get Together in Election for Board of Supervisors

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 4.—Republicans of Sangamon county, facing one of the most intense factional fights in the history of the county in the April 11 primaries, gained one member of the county board in today's township elections, according to complete unofficial returns tonight.

The political complexion of the new county board will be:

Republicans, 34.
Democrats, 16.

The Republican primary battle in prospect for one week from today is between the Small-Wheeler factions and the Sullivan organization, now in control with the exception of a few offices, including that of state senator, which is held by John A. Wheeler, administration leader in the senate.

The Sullivan forces are backing Representative Earl B. Searcy against Wheeler, who is a candidate for re-nomination.

The Republican gain in the county board occurred thru the defeat to George Bradley McNeely, former Three I. League catcher, by Frank Huddleston. McNeely was elected to the board two years ago on the Farmer-Labor ticket and was a candidate for re-election on the same ticket today. The Democratic minority on the board remained unchanged.

ESCAPED PRISONER GIVES HIMSELF UP

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 4.—Edwin O'Malley who said his home was in Chicago, and who escaped recently from prison at Atlanta, Ga., where he was serving an eighteen months sentence for vehicle taking, surrendered voluntarily at the United States marshal's office here today.

O'Malley it is said, was a member of a gang of seven who were arrested charged with automobile theft here and at Detroit. Carl Bernauer, a member of the gang was sentenced to life imprisonment for murder.

NEGRO BANDITS LOSE $75,000 LOOT

Chicago, April 4.—Two negro bandits gained temporary possession of a $75,000 payroll when they held up Ernest Randstrom, cashier for the Pennsylvania railroad company after invading his office at the Union Station. Then alarmed by Randstrom's shouts, they fled and escaped after firing at a policeman who attempted to intercept them. The bandits forced Randstrom into a rear room. While they were examining the cash drawer and safe he shouted to a policeman from a window and the negroes fled.

Just after the war time they had a saying that every leader of prominence had in one way or another forfeited the confidence of his constituents. There was some proof of this statement among the various nations. However, it does not apply to Mr. Lloyd George of England. The British premier, altho he has his opposition, still occupies a commanding position. Recently the house of commons gave him a vote of confidence by 372 to 94.

In Sangamon county the Republicans are so bitter in their primary contest that one wonders how they will ever be able to get together afterward. But that's the Sangamon county way and the politicians there seem to thrive on strife.

Have you noticed that special weeks are now being observed at the Jacksonville public library? This means that the library is laying emphasis upon its service it can render. Advertising has its legitimate place in library management and will increase the interest in the use of books and magazines.

The Jacksonville cemetery commission and the board of cemetery managers have proposed plans for the uniform and perpetual improvement of the cemeteries. The members of these boards are thoroly interested in the work in which they are engaged and the plans outlined will make for more beautiful and spacious cemeteries. The city is fortunate in the membership of the commission and the board of managers.

THE INCONVENIENT POLLING PLACE.

The remark was often heard yesterday that the inconvenient location of the road district polling place had much to do with the size of the vote. That sounds like a contradictory comment, but when you think of it, human nature followed its natural bent.

The commissioner serving had the full power to choose the polling place and possibly in all good faith selected the "Robin" store. The location may be about the center of the district, but it is not the center of population of the district.

The result was that many voters seemed to think that the polling place had been chosen with the purpose of making the Jacksonville vote as small as possible. Many a voter said: "Well, if the polling place is away off there I think I'll go down and see what's doing." So there is abundant testimony that the very inconvenience of the location of the polling place had a very decided influence in increasing the total vote.

THE BURDEN OF TAXATION.

That the burden of taxation presents one of the most serious problems confronting the American people was indicated at a recent hearing before a tax commission in a far western state. One of the speakers before the commission, a heavy tax payer, declared that one-third of the taxes are delinquent, and that the tax rate in his county is higher than the tax rate in Germany. His remark that it is asserted that Germany cannot possibly pay its reparations debts and that the people of Germany are taxed less than the people of his community, is reported to have created a profound impression.

In connection with the recital of these conditions it is well to remember that the Republican party, under the leadership of President Harding and the chairmen of the appropriations committees in both Houses of Congress, has undertaken to reduce the burden of taxation so far as national revenues are concerned. The great difficulty, and it is a local difficulty as well as national, is that the demand for public expenditures comes from the same communities and the same people who demand a lessening of taxation. Members of Congress are overwhelmed with correspondence asking new public service at the expense of the Federal government.

It must be perfectly clear to every one that we cannot have increased service from the government, increased aid for various public enterprises, increased payments for all sorts of purposes, unless we have also increased revenue, and increased revenue inevitably means increased taxes. This is true also in local affairs.

Almost every activity on the part of a local state or national government is undertaken because there appears to be a public demand for it. It follows, therefore, that increased taxation is brought about by public demand, or apparent public demand. The only promising method by which taxation may be reduced is to bring about a widespread expression of public opinion against new or extended public undertakings which are certain to result in increased public expenditures.

A social hour which was greatly enjoyed followed the business session. In the contest prizes were won by Miss Lorraine Covey. Refreshments were served and in every way the occasion was made pleasurable. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Eugenia Gaskins May 6.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS INVITED TO TRAINING CAMP.

The period of training will be in July and August, under the direction of Major F. L. Beals.

The local high school was represented last summer by three or four students. Camp Roosevelt is under the auspices of the Chicago board of education, acting in conjunction with the war department of the U. S.

INTEREST IS SHOWN IN REVIVAL

Dr. Sears Heard at Northminster Church on Old Testament Theme.

Mr. Frank Bracewell conducted a 30 minute spirited song at Northminster revival last night. Dr. Sears took as his text, Num. 13:30. He gave a beautiful and inspiring description of the people of Israel, and how they came to the river and they wanted to stay there, just like many churches want to stay in their present condition. Finally a company of twelve were set over into the promised land. We need leaders today to lead the church into a new land of spiritual usefulness. Only two out of the twelve had faith enough to lead the people on to victory.

There are too many church members wandering around in the wilderness. Too many wanted to live on the border line. Border line lawyers never amounted to anything. The border line doctor never accomplished much in life. A border line teacher does not amount to anything in her work. Let us launch out into the deep of God's ocean of work and make progress in the Master's cause.

Get out of the sphere of duty and get into the land of love and privilege. Too many go to church and Sunday school from a sense of duty, it is not so much a duty but the very greatest privilege. What a grand privilege it is to go to the house of God, where you can help to lead the unsaved into the kingdom.

Sunday night there were more than six hundred heard Dr. Sears on his wonderful sermon on "The Bread of Life," and many people have been talking of this sermon on the need of this city. Monday night the congregation was not so large but were greatly interested in the sermon, then last night a large congregation greeted Dr. Sears as he gave to them a powerful sermon. The interest of the meeting is growing every night. The pastor who has been out of the meeting since last Thursday was back at his post last night.

Mr. Hitchcock denounced what he described as "deliberate efforts to subvert and destroy the civil service as applied to the postoffice of the country" adding that the engraving bureau dismissals were not the only evidence of "hypocritical efforts to observe the law" on the part of the present administration.

Mr. Norris declared he had no defense to make of violations of the civil service law and read from the congressional record of early 1919 to show Mr. Hitchcock that he and his party had done "exactly the same things with respect to getting the other fellows out and the Democrats in."

Mr. Norris denied that Republicans had spread the doctrine of a return to the spoils system, saying that he believed most of them were in favor of observing the civil service law.

"I preached a return to the spoils system," interrupted Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire. "I did it because I believe an administration should be surrounded by its friends, always have believed it and always said so."

"Then the senator ought to have been defeated," retorted Senator Norris.

"But I wasn't," replied Mr. Moses. "I got the biggest vote any Republican ever got in New Hampshire and that is evidence enough for me."

Senator Stanley, Democrat, of Kentucky, broke in with a demand that if the engraving bureau removals were purely political, the administration should say so.

Grover Reed of Alton is in the city and will assume the position of foreman of the new Controllable Auto Light Co. Mr. Reed was formerly an employee of the company at Alton, where the first Anderson controllable light devices were made.

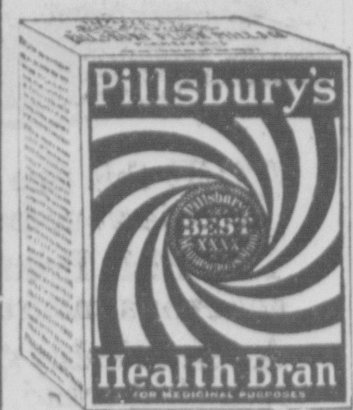

The new factory is not to open for a week or two, delay in the arrival of the machinery making it impossible to start at the date originally planned. The machinery was to have been shipped by truck but the heavy rains made it necessary to ship by train. The old pickle factory which is to house the new enterprise is now in readiness for the installation of the machinery. Some extensive repairs have been made there and the building is now in excellent shape.

FREE BREAKFASTS ARE DISCONTINUED

Salvation Army No Longer Issues Free Meal Tickets to Floater at Police Station—Records Show 694 Men Thus Accommodated.

On April 1 the Salvation Army discontinued the serving of free breakfasts to "tourists" at the police station, the coming of warmer weather making this action seem advisable. The records show that during the first three months of the year a total of 694 men were served free cakes and coffee at the expense of the Salvation Army at the local police station. Breakfast cards were passed out by a representative of the Army each morning at the station and these cards were good at any local restaurant.

During the winter months more than 950 men were given free lodging at the police station, among the number being representatives of practically every state in the union. Before securing lodging each man was required to give his name and address (if any), the records showing that as high as twenty five of these floaters were given lodging on a single night.

It is a recognized fact that the number of holdups and thefts in the city during the winter months was smaller than it usually is during the cold season. It is probable that this fact is in some measure due to the hospitality which has been extended to these homeless persons who came to the city for a day or two and then traveled on.

Agricultural Association Notes

A bulletin from the Bureau of Business Research of the College of Commerce and Business Administration at the University of Illinois is responsible for the following statements:

In 1921, the people of Illinois paid more than two hundred million dollars in general property taxes.

Of this amount more than nine-tenths was spent for local purposes, and less than one tenth went for appropriations by the legislature.

The state has large sources of income aside from taxation.

In 1921, more than one half of the money appropriated by the General Assembly was for highways and waterways.

One sixth of the total amount appropriated by the General Assembly in 1921 was for education.

One third of the road's revenue not specifically assigned to roads and waterways is spent on education and of this amount spent for education, more than one half is returned to the local communities thru the distributive fund.

During the past ten years the amount of state tax set aside for general purposes, salaries and wages of state employees, upkeep of charitable and penal institutions, etc.) has declined, while the expenditures for these general purposes have increased, the difference being made up by the increase in revenue derived from the Illinois Central Railroad, from inheritance tax receipts, and from other sources of a similar nature.

European Corn Borer—This must not be confused with the ear corn worm that wrought considerable damage last summer. The corn borer destroys the entire stock and is so much worse than the corn ear worm, that we hardly know how to compare them. So far the European corn borer has not gotten any farther west than Ohio, but we may expect sooner or later to hear of it in the corn belt. W. P. Flint has furnished this office with a prepared specimen showing it both the larvae and pupa stages.

Peoria Commission Firm—The board of directors for the new farmer-owned and operated livestock commission firm at Peoria stock yards will hold its first meeting at Peoria on April 12. This board is to be made up and selected by the county farm bureaus in the territory about the market. The I. A. A., is adding in the establishment of the new firm.

"Co-Op" Eggs Paid Highest—Egg shipments of the last two weeks from the six cooperative associations in Illinois started by the I. A. A., and county farm bureaus have received from one half to one cent above the top price on the Chicago market because of superior quality and grading. Requests have been made at Chicago for larger quantities of eggs from the co-operative associations and it was stated that from one to two cents above top market quotations would be paid if larger quantities could be had. The six associations in the state are now marketing nine thousand dozens of eggs a week.

The association which has done the largest amount of business has reduced its operating expenses to one and one fourth cents a dozen to include grading, candling and packing.

mean that there could be no recurrence of such interest, but it seems entirely likely that before another two years passes the election law relating to road districts will be changed so that an adequate number of polling places can be provided.

MARSE HENRY COMES BACK TO KENTUCKY
HOME FOR ALL TIME

Veteran Journalist is Laid to Rest at Louisville Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 4.—"Marse" Henry Watterson came home to Kentucky today to rest for all time. A great assemblage of Louisville citizens and men of national prominence who knew him in life came to honor his memory. Flags on public buildings flew half mast while simple church services were being held for the dean of American journalism, who died in Jacksonville, Florida, about three months ago.

The casket placed on a catafalque directly in front of the pulpit was flanked on one side with scores of floral offerings from many parts of the country. The folds of an American flag which stood to its right and rear, were stirred by the breeze from the open doors.

Grouped near the pulpit were members of the Watterson family, the active pall bearers some of whom had been associated with Mr. Watterson in his newspaper work for fifty years and the honorary pallbearers. Among them was Alexander Konta, New York banker and manufacturer to whom Mr. Watterson dedicated his biography. James W. Brown, of The Editor and Publisher, New York attended as the representative of the president and governing committee of the press congress of the world.

Jim Wilson, for years Mr. Watterson's devoted negro servant, grief stricken sat with the family.

Simplicity Marks Services.
The services were in line with that simplicity which had marked the life of Mr. Watterson. A ritualistic reading, a hymn, a prayer, an anthem by the choir and a eulogy were the outward tributes.

"He leaves no successor," the Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell, pastor of the church said, "for only Ulysses can wield the bow of Ulysses."

"Not again," he continued, "shall his like be found. Others who have lived and wrought on a great stage have acknowledged their indebtedness to the glowing inspiration they have received through discipline or association with this great man and his influence long will abide while others of the younger generation who have felt his electric touch will carry forward his work."

The burial service was read by the Rev. Dr. Charles Craik, of Christ Church Cathedral at Cave Hill Cemetery where the casket was lowered into a stone vault. A plain block of granite above it from its emplacement on a hill overlooks the city where the veteran editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal spent some of the most active years of his life.

FUNERALS

Vires.
The funeral services in memory of Renick Vires held Tuesday afternoon at Bethel A. M. E. church, was attended by an unusually large gathering. Two special cars arrived on the noon Washburn train, bringing numerous friends of the deceased from Springfield. The visitors included the Greater Springfield band, members of the Elks and other orders in which the deceased held membership.

The services at the church were in charge of Rev. R. H. Hackley, assisted by Rev. H. H. DeWitt and Rev. W. H. Snowdon. Mr. Vires was a member of Charles Young Lodge No. 103, Order of Elks, and Lincoln Monument lodge No. 124 of Odd Fellows. Both of these organizations were largely represented at the services, as was Jacksonville lodge No. 2122, G. U. O. F.

The ministers paid deserved tribute to the life and character of the deceased and the service was made impressive throughout. The floral offerings were especially profuse.

Mr. Vires for twelve years was manager of the Springfield band and a number of the selections played were his favorites, and he had mentioned that he hoped they would be heard at his funeral.

After the funeral party reached Jacksonville the band and lodge representatives marched to the home of the deceased on North Sandy street and later accompanied the remains from the service to the church. The service was one of the most impressive ever held for a colored citizen of Jacksonville.

It has been his custom to visit the chief executive of each city thru which he passed, obtain letters of endorsement and also permit them to contribute cash for his hiking fund. When he visited Mayor Thompson the latter questioned him closely and asked for his army discharge papers.

When the visitor could not produce the papers he was arrested by department of justice agents who said that Ross had served overseas in the 77th Division, had reenlisted at Providence and deserted while at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa.

NEW PLAN PROPOSED FOR CEMETERY CARE

Commission Explains Method for Securing Funds — Perpetual Care Plan Also Outlined.

Members of the Jacksonville cemetery commission have decided upon a plan whereby it is proposed to provide uniform care for lots in Diamond Grove cemetery. In order to get the views of lot owners on this project the commission has addressed letters to lot owners explaining the plan. Thus far the letters have been sent only to lot owners in sections A and B, which makes up the central part of the cemetery.

At a later time the plan will be explained to other lot owners. The letter issued by the commission is as follows:

A Finance Plan.
Dear Friend:—
The Cemetery Commission of Jacksonville is endeavoring to inaugurate a system of uniform care for all the lots in Diamond Grove Cemetery, whereby its natural beauties shall be so increased that it will be a source of pride and satisfaction to all those who think of it as the resting place of the loved ones whose spirits have gone before.

The Commission has worked out a plan by which, through the collection of a small annual assessment from each lot owner or his representative, the entire cemetery can be kept in first class order, with grass smoothly cut, graves cared for, flowers cultivated and watered, and driveways made clean and attractive.

The Commission has decided, after careful investigation, that an annual payment of four dollars ($4.00) for each lot will secure this most desirable end; and it is the intention of the Commission that any sale of a lot in the future shall carry with it an agreement to provide this care. Where more than two lots are owned by the same person the charge will be $4.00 each for the first two lots and any additional lots at the rate of $3.00 per lot.

To those who would prefer to make provisions by investing a sum of money, the income of which shall supply this annual payment, we would suggest a consideration of the enclosed circular of the Cemetery Trustees, a perpetual board appointed by the Mayor of Jacksonville.

We are writing you as a representative of the family of...

The board of cemetery managers has also issued a letter in which explanation is made of the manner in which money can be left in trust fund for the permanent care of cemetery lots. The letter on this subject is as follows:

Perpetual Care.
It has long been recognized by many of the more thoughtful people in our community that a real need existed for a permanent body of trustees, legally authorized to accept trust funds, the interest arising from which annually should be used for the care and maintenance of lots in our two cemeteries. Many individuals and families have wanted and will continue to desire to make necessary arrangements for perpetual care of cemetery lots in which their loved ones are deposited.

The undersigned wish to give publicity to the fact that the state of Illinois permits a board of three to be appointed by the City Council to receive trust funds, said funds to be invested in government securities and municipal bonds, etc., income from which shall be used for the upkeep of cemetery lots.

The City Council by ordinance has created such a board recently, to perform this service gratuitously and under company surety bonds. Already a number of benefactors have come into our hands which moneys have been invested in government bonds, and the interest of which annually will be applied to the Citizens' Cemetery Commissioner for the care and maintenance of lots.

Now that this board has been legally appointed and is functioning, it desires that the public be made familiar with the fact and urged to make use of the service of this board.

It is suggested that a minimum amount of $100.00 for each lot be placed with this board, in trust for use as explained, and that all citizens be requested to include provision in their wills for an amount not less than $100.00 for each lot to be turned over to this Board of Trustees for cemetery upkeep. Annual reports by the city council are provided for, and we commend an enlarged use of the service of this board by citizens generally. It is an advanced step in community service that we feel sure will meet with the hearty approval of everyone and will contribute toward the beautifying of our cemetery and insure perpetuity of care in the years to come, of cemetery lots, when the present generation will not be alive to render their useful service.

Very truly yours,
The Board of Cemetery Managers,
Wm. A. Jenkinson, Pres.
Harry M. Capps, Treas.
Dennis Schram, Secy.

MAY VOTE ON MURRAYVILLE COMMUNITY SCHOOL QUESTION

The question of discontinuing the Murrayville community high school district will probably be submitted to the voters. A petition to bring this about is now being circulated among voters of the precinct and will then be filed with the county superintendent of schools in accordance with the law.

The matter of taxes is at the bottom of this movement, as some property owners feel that the cost of the high school district is excessive. Other citizens take the view that it would be a great mistake to discontinue the district, as the law provides that children are entitled to high school education at public expense. If a community high school is not maintained the district will be chargeable with tuition for pupils in some other district.

LEGION POST HELD
REGULAR SESSION

Various Matters of Business Given Attention at Tuesday Night Session of Local American Legion Post.

A regular business session of the local American Legion post was held Tuesday evening. The attendance was very good and an interesting session was held. The membership drive which was inaugurated at the last business meeting has been carried on actively and report last night indicated that 21 paid memberships have resulted.

Report was made by the hospital committee of the recent purchase of a piano to be used by the ex-service men at Oak Lawn sanatorium. Veterans of Foreign Wars contributed $25 toward the necessary fund and other friends of the Legion gave $25.

A communication was read from National Commander Mac Nider with reference to the raising of a fund for the decoration of graves overseas on Memorial day, and a committee was appointed to take charge of this matter.

The committee which had charge of the concessions at the auto show last week made a very favorable report. Plans were discussed for some entertainments which are to be given in the near future at Oak Lawn Sanatorium, and various other plans were given attention. It was announced that a prize will be awarded at the next business meeting, and it is hoped the attendance will be large on that occasion.

So many inquiries have been made locally as to the political stand of the American Legion that the attention of the public is called to the following paragraph from the constitution:

Art. 2, Sec. 2: While requiring that every member of the post perform his full duty as a citizen according to his own conscience and understanding, the post shall be absolutely non-partisan and shall not be used for the dissemination of partisan principles or for the promotion of the candidacy of any persons seeking public office or preferment.

LEO DITRICHEIN'S FIN IN "THE GREAT LOVER" TONIGHT.

The distinguished star, Mr. Leo Ditrichein, in his most brilliant success, "The Great Lover," is the splendid attraction secured for the Grand tonight. Mr. Ditrichein stops off here en route to the Pacific Coast where he is to spend the coming summer putting on a repertoire of plays.

Unquestionably the appearance of Mr. Ditrichein in "The Great Lover" will be the big event of the season in local dramatics. For years our playgoers have heard Mr. Ditrichein's triumph in this play, one of the delectable classics of the theater, and the announcement of his impending engagement will be hailed with delight.

"The Great Lover" was written by Mr. Ditrichein and Frederick and Fannie Hatton and tells the romantic story of a great operatic singer who loses his voice. As the New York Herald said, "Mr. Ditrichein's performance of Jean Parelli, the opera singer and popular idol, will always be remembered as a monument of histrionic artistry." The supporting company will include a number of the original New York cast who have been especially secured by Leo Shubert for this engagement.

OLD JACKSONVILLE THE HESLEPS

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

The Heslep family were among the prominent and notable pioneers of Jacksonville in its earliest days.

"They came here in 1833—the Cholera year," said one of their descendants, Mrs. Stephen Dunlap, of Dunlap's Springs, last week. Mrs. James M. Dunlap, of Jacksonville is a sister of Mrs. Stephen.

Thomas Heslep was the father who brought his wife and children here, supposedly from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He was born February 23, 1773, and died, here, November 19, 1824.

His wife was Cassandra Nichols, by birth, which was November 6, 1783. She died, here, September 17, 1872, almost ninety years of age.

This man and his wife were the parents of:

Lucinda, born December 13, 1804, died February —, 1844.

Augustus born September 27, 1806.

Harriet, born March 9, 1809, died in California August 29, 1890.

Sally, born April 20, 1812, died here January 19, 1891; wife of George Orear, brother of the Hon. William Orear.

Joseph, born October 20, 1814.

William, born January 20, 1817, died December —, 1869.

Thomas, born September 9, 1819, died April 4, 1905.

Benjamin F., born January 25, 1822, died January 30, 1905.

David Clinton, born June 15, 1824.

Hannah Vanleer, born February 25, 1827, died here, April 20, 1842.

Mr. and Mrs. Heslep.

Thomas Heslep was a cabinet maker in those good old days when men learned trades. Soon after coming here he was incapacitated by rheumatism to carry on his business and his wife saw something must be done to care for her family. She had a large frame house built; nearly opposite site where the "Dunlap House" is now (the house where Mrs. Griswold and Hardesty now have their offices) and started keeping "Heslep's Tavern." Mr. Heslep had his cabinet shop north of the hotel, fronting on West Court street.

Thus Jacksonville's first good stopping place was instituted, and opened to the travelling public.

Stephen A. Douglas was one of the early patrons. It was maintained for years and was a credit to the growing town.

Mr. Heslep, as stated above, soon laid down his tools, and passed from earthly sight. His wife was a woman of exceptional ability and strength of character, and she easily managed her family of children and their care.

Some remarks made by the good lady regarding the Susquehanna river have come down thru the family traditions, and they imply that she may have been a native of Eastern Pennsylvania. Both she and her husband were too old for them to have been born in Pittsburgh.

It is to be remarked, in passing, the old folks, that all accounts seem to agree that the family were high class people, and a most valuable addition to the frontier village.

They were active members of the Episcopal church.

Turning now to the children. Harriet is first to be noted. She married Horatio N. Pettit, and they went to Oakland, California, where she died.

Sally married George Orear, brother of Hon. William Orear, both near here.

Joseph was the most active and prominent of the boys, during their residence here. He became County Clerk.

and was evidently a man among men, for when the "California fever" broke out, he was chosen captain of the company of nearly forty men who organized and started from here in 1849 for the "Golden State."

He had already been married to Miss Reed, of Murrayville vicinity, a sister of Mrs. David Robb, and a lady of personal attractiveness, as were the Robb girls. She did not live very long, and Mr. Heslep married again, out in California.

In that state he became prominent, as he had been here. His career was cut short by a cowardly murderer, who struck him from behind. But the coward soon got his deserts.

Judge Cyrus Epler, and William and B. Frank Heslep, and Dr. A. Heslep, of St. Louis, Mo., were in the number that Joseph joy the many happy incidents of her life.

Year Book. Salvation Army, 1922

—This useful little book tells the principal events of 1921, gives the location of the different divisions in both England and America, and the other European countries. There is a Who's Who in the Salvation Army, Salvation Army periodicals, and chronological table of important events.

Both of the above books were donated to the Public library by the local Salvation Army and make a very generous gift on their part. They are well worth the time one spends reading them and will give lights on the great spirit of the Salvation Army.

Information is lacking of the careers of Thomas, Benjamin F., and David Clinton, brothers of Joseph and William. But, as noted above Frank went to California, Thomas went to Cass county, then to Augusta, this state.

The flower of the family, and one whom they lost so early in her days, was Hannah Vanleer Heslep. Her years were but fifteen but so capable and bright was she that they were years full of honor to her and of help to all whom she could aid. Her read as follows:

"Yourself and family are requested to attend the funeral of Hannah Vanleer, daughter of Mrs. Cassandra Heslep, from the Episcopal church tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock precisely.

A funeral sermon will be preached by the Rev. Mr. Meyer. Wednesday, April 26th, 1842."

In this connection it might be well to give this:

"Funeral Invitation

"Yourself and family are invited to attend the funeral of Thomas Heslep, from his late residence on State street, west of the Public Square, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

"A discourse will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Bachelor.

"Jacksonville, Nov. 21, 1834."

A scrap from a local newspaper, after announcing the death of Miss Hannah, had this to say, in part:

"Miss Heslep was a young lady of great vigor of mind and decision of character; and at the same time, as remarkable for her gentleness and modesty of demeanor, as the most retiring and timid of her sex. Her natural talents, which were of a high order, she had cultivated with a force of application and earnestness, that gave promise of future excellence, if not of distinction. x x x She was, as she deserved to be, the adored and beloved of a large family remarkable for their domestic virtues and attachments. And when she died, their sorrow was unbounded; for their loss will ever be irreparable. All who knew her admired and loved her. And long will she be remembered."

This young girl had a piano which is now in possession of Mrs. Fred Beggs of Jacksonville. From her knowledge of it she taught herself how to play on the church organ, and gave her time and talent to aid in the religious worship of the Episcopal church.

Mrs. Stephen Dunlap has the manuscript of the sermon preached over Miss Heslep by the rector, Mr. Meyer. It is a fine example of the sermonizing of that day.

Mrs. Heslep.

the mother of this wonderful family, the history of which extended almost from the Atlantic to the Pacific, died in her eighty-ninth year at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Orear, and she surely had earned the rest promised to the servants of God.

Library Has New Book

Carpenter, Minnie L.—The Angel Adjutant. This is the life sketch of (Staff-Captain) Kate Lee and has an introduction by General Bramwell O'Rh. He says, "There is surely little need for me to commend this so intimate and living picture of Staff-Captain Kate Lee. It speaks for itself in speaking of one whose fine character and ceaseless labour were of singular charm and amazing fruitfulness."—Kate Lee was a woman of great spiritual strength and had a great love for humanity. Though a frail woman she accomplished wonders. The book is written in an interesting and charming manner. Those who read it will enjoy the many happy incidents of her life.

Year Book. Salvation Army, 1922

—This useful little book tells the principal events of 1921, gives the location of the different divisions in both England and America, and the other European countries. There is a Who's Who in the Salvation Army, Salvation Army periodicals, and chronological table of important events.

Both of the above books were donated to the Public library by the local Salvation Army and make a very generous gift on their part. They are well worth the time one spends reading them and will give lights on the great spirit of the Salvation Army.

LISLE NATIONAL BANK ROBBER BIG EVENT.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 3.—W. L. Griffin, a negro, is under arrest here charged with what the police term the "Lisle National Bank robbery."

According to the complaining witness, Louise Thomas, colored, "cashier" of the "bank" the "heldup" occurred while she was asleep.

"Judge, he's just cut a hole in my stocking while I was asleep and took the money," she said when she swore out the warrant. The loot was $76 all in bills, mostly of one dollar denomination.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS TO BE ON HIGH PLANE

Constitutional Changes are Being Contemplated at April Meeting.

CHICAGO.—Proposed constitutional changes in the American College of Physicians, which meet at Rochester and Minneapolis, Minn., April 3-8, will place the Physicians college, according to Dr. Frank Smithers, secretary general of both bodies, upon a higher professional plane than has been reached by any other country.

The first four days' session will be held at Rochester, and the last two in Minneapolis. This was determined upon so that the clinical facilities of the Mayo foundation of Rochester and the University of Minnesota school of medicine at Minneapolis, might be available.

Dr. Smithers said the two organizations had decided upon radical changes in their fundamental organizations, which will be embodied in sets of constitutions and by-laws, already agreed upon and to be adopted at the congress and meeting. These changes prescribe rigid requirements for "internists," Dr. Smithers said, placing the "practice of internal medicine upon the same high plane ethically that surgery now enjoys through the efforts of the American College of Surgeons." The eligibility requirements, both to the congress and the college, are to be so strict, it was stated by Dr. Smithers that the "public may rely implicitly upon the professional fitness of every member of the college."

These requirements, for fellows of the college, demand that each be a graduate of a medical school of the first rank; a member in good standing of his local, state or national societies; a licentiate for practice in the state wherein he resides, or engaged in practice or in scientific medical research in a hospital or institution of recognized standing; that he be more than 25 years old and have received his diploma at least five years prior to the granting of the fellowship; and that he be in no way connected with any organization, commercializing the practice of medicine.

Other requirements are that the applicant be engaged in teaching or scientific research, or in charge of an approved hospital of 100 or more beds, or affiliated with the medical or laboratory departments of the United States or Canadian army, navy or public health service, or in default of these attainments, that he shall have submitted a minimum of 50 clinical reports upon patients who have been actually under his care, together with complete histories and other essential data concerning these cases.

If the applicant is not engaged in clinical medicine he must submit a minimum of two problems of original research with all data appertaining thereto, and applicants engaged in clinical medicine must submit reports upon twelve autopsies performed by them, with all essential data, and all applicants must pass satisfactory examinations and be graded upon the results shown.

Masters in the college are to be chosen by the board of government from fellows who, "through personal character, eminence in practice or medical research have obtained positions of honor and influence."

These requirements, Dr. Smithers said, would place the American College of Physicians upon a higher professional plane than has been reached by any country in the world, and would be tantamount in America to membership in the Royal College of Physicians in England and Ireland, or to membership in the French Academy.

The American College of Physicians was started six years ago in New York. It was originally a companion institution to the American College of Surgeons, but for the last six years has been an independent organization, with membership limited to internists.

CARNATION STEM ROT SOIL DISEASE

Protection Lies in Careful Control of Growing Conditions and in Use of Clear Soil.

URBANA, Ill.—Because carnation stem rot is a soil disease, the surest protection against it lies in careful control of growing conditions and in the use of clear soil. So states a bulletin on "Carnation Stem Rot and Its Control," published by the University of Illinois. Because several millions of dollars are invested in the carnation industry in Illinois, the experiments conducted and the resulting bulletin are considered important. Stem sterilization is recommended, but the usual soil disinfectants are declared of slight effect.

"The disease is a soil disease," says the bulletin, "the organism lives in the soil under ordinary conditions, but under more favorable conditions attacks the carnation plant causing its destruction. The conditions influencing its spread and development are high soil temperature and soil moisture."

The results of these experiments indicate that the usual soil disinfectants, such as sulfuric acid, lime, Bordeaux, copper sulfate, and formalin, applied to the soil have but little effect and are consequently of little value as a means of controlling the disease.

"In order completely to eradicate the fungus from the soil, steam sterilization alone seems to be effective. Dry steam forced through the soil at 40 pounds pressure for one hour will destroy the fungus. There is no indication that such sterilization of soil is accompanied by evil effects on the growth or the production of the carnation plants."

"The first month the plant is in the bench is the most critical point in the life of the plant, especially if the transplanting is done early."

"The temperature should be kept as low as possible and no more water applied to the soil than is absolutely necessary for a healthy growth of the plant."

PRICE OF WHEAT
AVERAGED HIGHER

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Ayrho on account of absence of any aggressive selling wheat averaged higher in price today, word that shipments from Missouri for delivery on May contracts here were impending had a bearish effect during the last part of the board of trade session.

The close was unsettled at 11c not decline to 5c advance with
May $1.32 1/2 to $1.32 1/4 and July $1.18 1/2 to $1.18 1/4. Corn finished a shade to 1/2c off, oats unchanged to 1/2c lower and provisions unchanged to a rise of 3 cents. Announcement that 100,000 bushels of No. 2 hard winter wheat at St.
Joseph, Mo., had been bought to be put into storage in Chicago had much to do with lessening the confidence of wheat bulls near the end of the day and with narrowing the premium for delivery as compared with July. Slowness of export demand with talk of improved crop conditions southwest tended also to handicap bulls during the late dealings.

An advance of one cent in Argetine export duties for April was a factor early in discouraging would be speculative sellers of wheat, and in stimulating hopes among other traders that some enlargement of export business from the United States would be developed instead however. European appeared to be confined mainly to distant deliveries of wheat from Canada.

Prices for corn and oats were chiefly governed by the action of the wheat market. Wet weather, tho, and export inquiries for corn helped somewhat to uphold values.

Provisions for the most part were higher in price owing to an upturn in the hog market.

CONCORD FARMER IS SERIOUSLY ILL

John B. Ratliff Partially Paralyzed at Home North of Concord—Other Concord Notes.

John B. Ratliff, a prominent farmer living a mile and a half north of the village was stricken with illness of a serious nature last Thursday night. Dr. A. M. Johnson was called to attend him, and later, Dr. Black of Jacksonville was called in consultation. It seems to be partial paralysis of one arm and one leg. Mr. Ratliff is considerably improved.

Mrs. Charles Brewer was reported on the sick list on Sunday. Veryl Plank is recovering from a sick spell.

The home talent play "Safety First" was given at the Christian church on Friday night, notwithstanding the bad roads and inclement weather.

Aaron Petefish and family came down Sunday from Litterberry to visit Joy Cooper and wife a day or two.

Many friends of Mrs. S. M. Henderson will be interested to know that she is feeling fine at her new address in Tucson, which is now 725, East 8th Street.

Rev. Mr. Harris closed his year work at the Christian church on Sunday night. He resides in Decatur.

The snow of last Friday was an unwelcome surprise to the farmers and many others. Mrs. W. T. Spires is quoted in Saturday's Journal, relating the deep snow of 1876. The Journal scribe was a 12 year old boy at that time, but remembers the big snow very distinctly. James Harvey Scroggin, a former neighbor of ours passed away on March 28th of that year. The funeral must have been held about the 30th, at the home about five miles west of Concord. The burial was made in Concord cemetery. The snow was so deep that men on horseback went ahead to break the way, and lay down fences where necessary, to shun the worst places. Four horses drew the conveyance bearing the remains, and they had to be replaced with four fresh horses at the Henry Eilers residence, about half way. Mrs. Scroggin died Sept. 30th 1875, and a son and daughter died of measles on April 2nd 1870. They died a few hours apart, and a double funeral was held. Measles was epidemic that spring. Another big snow fell just before the first election for road commissioners, possibly in February. What year was that? Must have been along about 1887, or 88.

WHITE HALL PYTHIANS CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

White Hall, April 3.—The 30th anniversary of the institution of Porter lodge, Knights of Pythias, was observed Friday with degree work in the afternoon and evening. The rank of Esquire was conferred upon two candidates at the afternoon session, and the rank of Knight upon four at night. A banquet was served at 6 o'clock, at which were seated sixty three members of Porter lodge. These included three charter members, Dr. W. T. Knox, George C. Griswold and T. M. Hull. The latter has the enviable record of having not missed a meeting except once during thirty years, when his wife was ill in a hospital and in recognition of this record a gold jewel was presented him in fitting words by E. C. Pearce. Other banquet speakers were Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick, Editor H. E. Bell, H. W. Shirley, with H. W. Gahuly as toastmaster.

The lodge has a membership of 290.

FINE FISHING AT WHITE HALL CITY RESERVOIR

White Hall, April 3.—Recent years have brought a curtailment of fishing facilities of this section by the drainage of large areas of lakes in the Illinois river bottoms that afforded hundreds of acres of fishing, leaving largely the river and the smaller tributary streams of this section to provide fields for the anglers. Out of this situation has grown into importance the White Hall city reservoir for fishing purposes. This body of water covers about thirty acres, and located one mile east of White Hall. With the fulfillment of plans for a filtration plant, the privileges of the reservoir may be extended to boating and swimming, not now permitted, and this is one important item in favor of the filtering scheme that is being advocated by the state board of health with most favorable reception by the White Hall city council.

The city reservoir is under the control of the White Hall Fishing club as far as the fishing privileges are concerned, the officers of which are as follows:

President, A. P. Gregory; Secretary, H. R. Fry; Watchman, Ed Bear. These officers are retained from last year, and the fishing season is now getting well under way. The membership is about 150. The reservoir has been liberally stocked from time to time in past years with game fish, such as black bass, blue gill, yellow perch, crappie and bull heads. Of the several thousand fish taken out each year, four and five pounders are not numerous. The largest fish caught last year was a 5 1/2 pound bass.

FINE FRUIT PROSPECTS IN GREENE COUNTY

White Hall, April 3.—The monthly report of R. B. Pearce, cooperative observer of the weather bureau, discloses the month of March was 3.2 degrees warmer than the average or mean for that month. The mean maximum was 54 and the mean 37.4 degrees, making the mean 45.7 against the normal of 42.5 degrees for that month at this station. The highest reading was 77 on the 27th, and the lowest 8 on the 3rd.

The rainfall was excessive, the total for the month being 7.97 inches, or 5.59 inches more than normal. The greatest fall in 24 hours was 2.78 inches on the 14th, which assumed flood proportions, washing out railroad tracks and filling some cellars. Heavy rains at the close of the month were again bringing streams up to a threatening height, but no damage resulted. This precipitation included 4.5 inches snow there being 2.5 on the 1st and 2.3 on the 31st. There were 13 days with precipitation of .01 inch or more, 9 clear and 4 partly cloudy and 18 cloudy days. Thunder occurred on the 14th and 19th. The month was characterized by high winds and the usual March variability.

Fruit and general crop prospects are excellent with the opening of April. March a year ago showed a mean temperature of 9.1 warmer than normal, and a damaging freeze followed.

MONEY TO LEND

WOODSON PASTOR WRITES LETTER

Woodson, Ill.
April 3, 1922.

Editor Journal:—
Dear Sir: I want a little space in your good paper to say a few words. First: The "flu" came to the parsonage about four weeks ago. It seemed that it had put up and was going to stay, but we are now about as usual.

I want to tell you that few churches are so good and kind to their pastor as the Christian church in Woodson. While we were ailing it was our privilege to have the first 1922 fried chicken in the county. A fine brood came to the parsonage on January 1, 1922, and they now weight about three pounds each at three months old. We have had fried chicken twice, already and are feeling a bit hungry again. We are now looking forward to the next killing.

The church is planning some special meetings to begin next Sunday and closing with Easter day. The Women's Missionary society is preparing to observe the week of prayer also. April 23 is the date set for our annual basket dinner and fellowship meeting.

We are begging to have every member present on that date with a well filled basket, and a good appetite to eat and to work.

We are now planning for our greatest year's work in the Woodson church. There are now more than 200 members on the roll and we want every one of their home with us for dinner, April 23rd. Hope our appetite for fried chicken will be well sharpened by that time.

Yours for better things, and the Hard Road thru Woodson.
I. H. FULLER.
